

This bundle is licensed under the CC 4.0 license. This essentially means that your use of this bundle is legally bound by mentioning my authorship... and that is it, you can do more or less what you wish with it after it (details in the license).

That said; I want to make a few things ABSOLUTELY clear:

- I personally consider the mention of authorship a show of respect for the author, NOT a legal requirement (even if the license states otherwise). This means that if you won't mention me I will NOT take any legal action NOR should you be excluded from any kind of competition, community, etc. for using this bundle without giving credit to me (if any organizer complains, show them this document and if you don't believe you, feel free to mail me).
 - The only exception to this being you flat-out pissing me off in some way where I might start strictly demanding the credit.
- If you make changes to this bundle in any way; please drop an extra file with a rundown of what you changed (preferably with the original packed as a sub-folder/or package file).
- If you use this in your work, I would appreciate an e-mail linking to what you did. I always get curious of what people do with my work. Yet once again: NOT mandatory.
